North Somerset Council recently concluded a comprehensive Community Governance Review (CGR) that examined town and parish boundaries, warding, and councillor representation. The final recommendations were approved in late 2025. The proposals regarding the inclusion of the Elms into the Nailsea Golden Vally ward appears to ignore the outcome of this review and will result in a very unsatisfactory situation where residents of the Elms will remain part of Wraxall & Failand Parish but have electoral representation from Nailsea. This makes no practical sense and I would urge the electoral commission to review their finding.
