Related subject: The Elms

As noted in the report, whole The Elms currently falls within Wraxall and Failand Parish, and so Long Ashton Ward, it is a non-rural residential area attached to the town of Nailsea, and directly benefiting from that town's facilities and services. It is entirely different in nature to the villages of Wraxall and Failand, which are much older rural areas. Moving The Elms from W&F/LA to Golden Valley/Nailsea is logical and netters reflects the different experiences of living there compared to the small villages
