Mead Fields should remain part of Banwell & Winscombe ward until such time as the parish boundaries are reviewed in the future. If as a result of population growth the current ward becomes too large then the arguments for splitting Mead Fields out become more relevant.

Ahead of a re-organisation of parish boundaries moving Mead Fields into a different ward will create issues in that its ward councillor will have to, for example, specifically attend Banwell parish council meetings to ensure continuity of the current engagement that takes place as well as attending parish council meetings covering the rest of the new ward. Such a split has historical seen ward councillor engagment be watered down due to time and other constraints.

I agree longer term Mead Fields may well look toward Locking more but for now it's too soon to hive it off.
