The notion that Nailsea Town Council & North Somerset Council wish to incorporate The Elms into Nailsea is actually nothing to do with the equality of population in various wards as always Politicians never tell the truth. This review is more about finance than anything else. Nailsea presently are benefitting from the huge amount of housing development with several more in the pipeline , but now they want to take the Council tax from Long Ashton Parish as in truth the council is inept and cannot control its finances so what better way than to steal council from another parish. Should the proposal go through what benefit will the residents of the Elms receive from this, the town centre is a disgrace full of coffee shops , charity shops, hairdressers, & nail bars & the council has recently introduced car Parking charges as yet another ploy to drive away any footfall so it is no wonder that the population shops away from the Town Centre.

I certainly do NOT want this proposal to take place & I am sure that many of the residents in the Elms will agree with my views.
