I do not want The Elms to become part of Nailsea. I have called Wraxall home for my whole life and feel a strong connection to the area. My childhood was spent enjoying the fields out towards Wraxall and walking the woods in Failand. I do not have the same affinity with Nailsea. I do not want to have to change my address or have to communicate this to the myriad third parties who hold my information. I don't want the increase in Council Tax that would come with the move. I am from Wraxall, not Nailsea. I don't want short-termist political boundary tinkering to undo a lifetime of connection to place. Please consider the human, emotional side of things (as I'm sure you are as part of this consultation), and weight it equally with the economic / planning / logistical angles. Thanks for the opportunity to feed back.
