I find it outrageous that Nailsea keeps trying to take away parts of our parish. We cannot let them take an inch or they will simply come back for more, it's just like Russia against Ukraine.

The community including those residing in the Elms have already voted in favour of remaining part of the Failand and Wraxall Parish community and so it would remain in all our interests if the whole parish of Failand and Wraxall were to remain within the Long Ashton wards, or if we were to have council wards of our own.
