I find it incredulous that after completing a referendum regarding any boundary change only very recently where the result was overwhelmingly in support of the Elms remaining in the Wraxall and Failand Parish Council that we find ourselves having to make the very same argument yet again. I would like the Nailsea Town Councillors to explain what exactly has changed in the interim period. We had a democratic vote and it was not in the favour of The Elms being included in the wards of Nailsea Town Council. Are we going to have this debate over and over again? It is frustrating and infuriating.
We have and will always believe, we on the Elms are aligned to Wraxall. We purchased our home because we identify as being part of Wraxall. We sit adjacent to the fields of Wraxall. The argument put forward by Nailsea Town Council that the residents of The Elms utilise facilities on offer in Nailsea is weak. All villages use the facilities provided by their nearest towns. We have always been well served by Wraxall & Failand Parish Council and the Councillors of the Long Ashton Ward and DO NOT wish to served by the incompetence Nailsea Town Council.and Councillor Bird!

You've heard are views before and they have not changed.
