What is the proposed increase in the number of councillors? i e how many do we have now?
Looking at the map and the forecast electorate, it seems to me that Fareham North and Warsash will need an extra councillor. each. The current boundaries are presumably more down to geography than numbers of electorate. Rather than move boundaries, just adjust the number of councillors to match the number of the electorate. I would not like to be in another named area, as I live in Hill Head. It is bad enough that our parliamentary constituency is Gosport, rather than Fareham!
