Related subject: The Elms, Wraxall & Failand

a) Improving electoral equality: The proposal to add The Elms into Nailsea Youngwood and out of Long Ashton appears to push the former to above average representation and the latter below average, which is contrary to LGBCE considerations.
b) Ensuring that the recommendations reflect community identity: The recent Parish Consultation showed 90% of The Elms favouring Wraxall & Failand identity. Pressure seems to be coming from Nailsea Town Council for a change; shouldn't the views of The Elms residents carry more weight?
c) Providing arrangements that support effective and convenient local government; The proposal appears to add complexity to local government arrangements rather than improving efficiency..
On all three counts. logic would favour retaining the status quo, rather than favouring a proposal driven by persons/organisations external to The Elms.
