The proposal to drag in The Elms into Nailsea Golden Valley is based on more on mathematics to suit government guidelines and the greedy desires of Nailsea Town Council to land grab, rather than recognising the true will and desire of the actual residents of The Elms to remain in Wraxall & Failand.

The proposals suggest the recommendations reflects the community's identity. Nothing could be further from the truth. The residents of The Elms chose to move there specifically because of it's rural location, not because they wanted it to become just another part of Nailsea's urbanisation - if they had wanted this they would have chosen to move closer to the town centre, not away from it.

These propsals don't recognise or serve the will and desire of The Elms residents to remain within Wraxall & Failand. The correct solution is to revise and tweek the existing boundries of Nailsea urbanised areas to make their mathmatics fit the government guidelines rather than land grabbing from Wraxall & Failand and upsetting their residents and boundries.
