Related subject: The Elms being included in Nailsea

The Elms is a part of Wraxall, and as a resident; parent, ex-school governor, and chair of the PTA at Wraxall school; and parishioner at Wraxall All Saints Church, I am included in the village.

The Wraxall and Failand Neighbourhood plan sets out our priorities which includes land now sought by neighbouring Nailsea. We live here for village life, and our parish council reflects that. Two consultations have confirmed The Elm's resident's desire to stay within Wraxall. Anything other defies resident's democracy.
