Related subject: Wraxall and Failand Ward Boundary Change

I do not agree with the proposed changes to the Wraxall and Failand ward boundary. The Wraxall parish church has its rectory within The Elms estate which is within the ward of Long Ashton and not Nailsea and the majority of residents of The Elms estate prefer to be residents of the Long Ashton ward and not Nailsea. They also have a better ratio of councillors than if they become members of Nailsea. They also belong to Wraxall Church rather than Nailsea churches.
