I disagree with the names of the new boundaries. We in our village of Aston have fought long and hard over the years to keep and cherish our individual village. We are members of East Herts whatever our post office insists on calling us. Even some Stevenage councillors have been known to think Aston is part of Stevenage! We feel if we lose our name, it is just another step towards loosing the character of our still (just about) rural village, which is the reason many of us chose to make our home here. Please keep the name of Aston in your new wards.
