Comment text:

Alfold, Dunsfold and Chiddingfold have nothing in common. For residents at Alfold, they do not shop in the other 2 villages, there is very limited transport links, the schools are different, Doctors surgeries are not connected. In fact you couldn't lump 3 villages together that have so little in common. To travel from one side of the ward to the other would need the use of a car and fly in the face of the climate emergency. It is about 20-30 minute drive from one side to the other. I would even say that most of the residents of Alfold have probably not even visited Chiddingfold, and at best might have driven through it to get to another destination. These proposals are flawed and will do more damage than good.
