There do not appear to be any benefits in grouping Rushwick with Alfrick and Leigh and having just one person to represent all 3. I don't have any confidence that my point of view will be listened to and I'm sure you'll railroad through whatever suits your end goal - however pointless and time-wasting that might be. Rushwick deserves to have proper representation especially as there are plans to totally ruin our quiet village life with massive housing development and a train station. I guess this all part of the plans to destroy the county, increase air pollution, replace green open spaces with more buildings and cars and just keep yourselves busy playing with people like they're just inanimate objects that can be moved around at will without thoughts for the consequences.
