I am emailing with regards to the draft recommendations report for the Bracknell Forest wards.

Having briefly glanced at the document there are several areas of concern that I will raise once I get the thoughts of my committee but I have one major concern that I would like to raise now - Jennett's Hill.

When I first read the document I thought Jennett's Hill was mentioned because that was the proposed name for the new wards. However, Jennett's Hill is repeatedly mentioned in the document. The correct area name is Jennett's Park, not Hill. The development, the Community Centre, the school, the local shop all use the name Jennett's Park - that's the name our development is known as locally, in local and National media, even on Wikipedia.

I would respectfully ask that this 'error' on behalf of LGBCE is reviewed, an explanation obtained and that a public apology is offered to residents of Jennett's Park (not Hill).

Kind regards
