This is regarding a change of boundaries for the Roman Bank ward. I strongly disagree with the proposal, which is actually terrible, for it doubles the size of the ward, which means that the councillor, will have no way to serve the entire territory due to its size, therefor my rights will be negatively impacted, not because of the ill will of the councillor, but because of the ill-considered burden placed on to them. Further: -There is little connection between Gorefield & Parson Drove, but -Very strong connections between Gorefield and Leverington. The existing villages in Roman Bank work well together and it works effectively at the local government level. Residents of Leverington, spoken to, do not want to be swallowed up by Wisbech as they still consider it a village, not part of the Town. The new proposed ward name will cause confusion given the name is similar to County Council Division. Once again, I strongly disagree with the proposed
