Since the boundary was moved to its present position and Apley was recognised as a separate location, the area has flourished as the local residents (I've lived here for 22 years) have supported the efforts made by our local councillor to promote the woods and the area as a conservation area as well as attracting appropriate housing to suit the location. There are many volunteer groups involved in the maintenance of the woodland and surrounding areas and they come from Apley as they have a vested interest. Please leave Apley alone.
