Comment text:

I am a resident of Apley Telford and enjoy the unique area which enjoys its own identity which should not be merged with Leegomery as Apley is separate in its nature a character and by keeping Apley in its own ward and boundaries helps keep its identity which would be lost if merged with Leegomery. The special characteristics of Apley afford the residents of Apley are many not least the following: - higher property prices - lower home insurance - lower car insurance - lower crime rates The effect of merging would devalue property and increase insurance costs for residents of Apley. Merging would be a step backwards as loose its own special and distinct identity would effect residents in many respects not least the brief matters noted above. I strongly object to Apley being merged with Legomery.
