I have previously made my comments on taking a way the Wrekin name for the alternative Wellington and Newport..which I disagree totally it's should stay known as the Wrekin. But I have just found out it has plans to merge Dothill and Shawbirch. Again this is not how I wish things to change. They should be kept separate and each ward discuss things as they arise, as they already do. Both areas are growing, with I'm sure more house to be built. We get things done as individual wards, I can't see this happening is it's one. I can't see how one ward can cover both areas constituents and all the issues. Nearly 200 house are still to be built in Dothill. Nearly 500 houses are being built at Maxwell site. There's all the house down at the sugar beet site too. This all impacts on Shawbirch and our ward councillor to deal with via extra traffic road issues etc
