Am I understanding this correctly? You have got rid of Merry Oak and Thornhill area entirely and put them into another area. You have moved Bitterne away from Bitterne and so it can now be found where Thornhill is which is no where near Bitterne, thus causing total confusion as to where these areas are? Sorry if I have mis-understood but if that is the case it makes no sense at all? And the main question here is why do this when it doesn't cause any issues right now, other than to rename two areas which probably have not quite a great reputation? So you've managed to delete two dodgy areas and rename them, thus causing Bitterene and Peartree area to become dodgy areas? Surely you must have better things to do with your time? Hopefully I have completely misunderstood, as this really does seem complete madness!
