Where?: I would create a new ward 'Polygon' out of Freemantle, Bevois and Bargate- creating 4 wards for the inner city. Polygon would be made by using: - The Northern portion of Bargate (North of Western Esplanade and New Road) - Bedford Place (Making the Bevois border go alongside St Andrews and Dorset Street and follows the Avenue) - The North-East portion of Freemantle (Bannisters Park and south of The Common area, making the border follow up Hill Lane) Why?: 1) The ward shape itself is compact and simple. It is a dense part of the city (and will no doubt increase in density) across that area and so the discussions around housing, social problems will be largely consistent. 2) The area collectively shares a joint relationship to both the city-centre and the central train station. Many working-age people live in this area and commute using core transport hubs or use active travel to work. 3) Polygon as an area for student residents in close relationship to Bedford Place shows it should be part of one ward.
