I cannot see the logic in changing the boundary for Sholing /Bitterne where the natural lines are Bitterne Road to the junction of Botley Road and Botley Road to Portsmouth Road as it s now. It seems to me that someone has to much time on there hands to think up these proposals, when there are more pressing things that need doing like dangerous footpaths/kerbs, road surfaces etc. What is the reason for or need of more wards? the majority of the public never see a councillor so why more councillors or is it all just political.
