Hi, I feel that are boundary should be left how is for the these reason, it will have a dramatic impact on property value in already growing financial crisis in the uk, are state had a very close relationship with the local parish council and by taking us away from this it will lose the feeling of being part of a community, we hold many events to help each in the area we have a Great relationship with residents around us and we look out for each other, we pay a lot of money for the estate to be maintained and by taking it out of the parish this money will be used in areas where the funds are not coming from.
