I do not want to be moved out of Penn. It has been my home for all of my life. I connect with the area and have been told that the school I went to will be moved and that the catholic church will go. Why? and why are we only just hearing about this now? How long has it been since this was suggested and why weren't the residents told of this many months ago so that we had time to organise ourselves to oppose it. We have local shops which in themselves form a part of the community we live in. I do not relate in any way to Graisleigh or anywhere else for that matter. Is this going to be the thin end of the wedge by where eventually Penn, as a ward, will no longer exist? If we have a current electorate of 9587 but are likely to lose a whole load of voters to Graisleigh how come the forecast electorate goes up to 9800. Voter numbers going down does not equate to electorate going up. Has someone got their sums wrong? What about schooling? I know of people who have bought their homes in Penn specifically because of the schools which would be available for their children. How are the boundary changes going to affect them? We are an entity in ourselves and any attempt to disrupt this entity must and will be opposed. At a recent meeting we heard of one person who found that his house was in Penn but his garden was in Graisleigh - how incompetent is that! I OPPOSE THIS MOVE WITH ALL MY HEART AND SOUL - DO NOT DESTROY OUR COMMUNITY.
