Looking at this proposal I am concerned. The area I live in, Harvington and Norton appears to be linked with the area of the County centred on Droitwich Spa. This makes little sense, our policing, our schooling and many other local community ties are firmly based around Evesham. Our elected representatives need to be in a council based locally as well. I fear this will leave Harvington and Norton as distant, marginalised relations under this proposed structure. As it is the Eastern area of the county has come off a very poor second best in terms of roads, other infrastructure improvements, investment in health services etc etc in recent years, this proposal will risk furthering this inequality.
