The proposed integration of Wick, where I have lived for 30 years, into Pershore is grossly absurd and has no logic whatsoever: Wick is a rural village, with its own thriving community, and is well served with neighbouring villages, such as Crophorne, Fladbury and The Combertons. It is physically separated from Pershore by the River Avon and there is no direct road link to the centre of the village. It is totally different in character to Pershore and has no commercial or retail outlets. As a previous Chairman of the Parish Council I cannot see any benefit whatsoever in the change for either Pershore or Wick. I believe Wick would suffer because of its relative size and differing needs. 365 versus 7255 approx. [REDACTED]
