Comment text:

The new Penenden Heath extends too far down into town, and Ringlestone is too small. We want to live in a democracy where we are represented at every level. Boundaries are key to allowing people to vote together with those who all want similar things. Putting very expensive houses into the same pot as very low value property will not achieve that. My vote is useless with current boundaries and the proposed boundaries. I vote Labour and do not want to be in a Ward along with most who do not.
