There will only be two elected councillors for nearly 8000 people. Currently we have three elected councillors and it's hard enough to get them to engage. How is adding more people to the ward boundary conducive to helping the electorate? Everton where I live is here, not Scotland road. There is a huge main road between the areas that separates the two. This is a foolish and fool hearty decision which will have a negative impact on an already deprived area. Joining two together will cause further issues.
