Comment text:

Currently we reside in Dirtham Lane, Effingham. However we are part of the Effingham Parish, despite being closest to the East Horsley Parish - whether that's based on church, community, everything. One side of the road is Horsley and the other side is Effingham, where the majority of the houses are. If things were to change, it would be fantastic for these properties to be considered as part of East Horsley parish, as we are closer and walking distance from this parish in comparison to the Effingham Parish. This would mean the whole road would be considered as part of the parish, instead of different sides.
