I very strongly object to changing the Brunswick and Adelaide ward to a 'Regency' ward. This will devalue the existing area by including the seafront and Western Road which has little of nothing 'Regency' about it. Not only that, you are removing the Brighton and Hove border which is another historical landmark. Why meddle with something that is perfectly in order. I can see no benefit and only a degradation of a specific area steeped in history including a grade one listed square. Finally, Brunswick and Adelaide is an integral, historic and unique part of Brighton and Hove with its own identity and needs. It is vital it retains its own ward status.
