Comment text:

I have lived in Patcham for 32 years. Have saved up my life savings alongside my partner to be able to finally afford a home in PATCHAM because this was the area we wanted to live, raise a family and grow old. This change is utterly ridiculous and completely pointless! There is nothing wrong with our area boundaries just like there has never been a problem for centuries. This plan will totally effect our property value and the surrounding properties in the area, and potential catchment for schools! Properties will automatically be lowered in value and classed as a industrial estate. Simple solution - change the number of councillors in each ward and save the upset of so many people who actually have to live in the area!! These are the people who will actually be effected by this change - not you.
