These comments are also pertinent to the proposed Bunny Ward. The proposed areas of the Soar Valley & Bunny Wards basically stretch from North to South. It should be noted that communities at the southern end have close ties to each other and Loughborough, whilst communities at the Northern end again have closer ties to each other and Nottingham, rather than Loughborough. I believe the boundaries of these two proposed Wards should be shortened on their North / South axis and widened about their East / West axis.

To consider con-joining a small rural village with what will be a much larger surburban development is totally unfair and ridiculous. Fairham Pastures will politically 'smother' Barton with its' surburban aspirations of no relevance to a small rural village. It would be fairer and more relevant to make Barton part of the poorly-named Soar Valley.
