Comment text:

I am not sure what the rationale is for evening up the number of electors and councillors. I sit on the Parish Council for Elmley Lovett and we are well served by both district and county councillors. The district councillors have an innate knowledge of the area and I do not see that the proposed change to a large area of Hartlebury and Dodderhill will be of any benefit to local residents. Far from aiding the situation I merely see a lack of knowledge and understanding of local issues which surely is not to the benefit of electors or the District Council. I would be against the proposals.
