Comment text:

Reducing the number of wards/councillors for Droitwich will fail to provide sufficient representation for residents against the background of an expanding population resulting from high levels of new house building and the consequent importing of new residents ,many of which are arriving from outside the District . As much of the new development is outside of the existing Droitwich District wards which are based on Town boundaries , to ensure a competent and comprehensive level of support and service provision to these new developments, the town boundaries and consequently wards need to be extended to bring them into the town , these changes would also provide the Town with important revenue from council tax contribution which would be appropriate given that these residents would draw heavily on Droitwich services . The extension of Town boundaries should extend to the north and south Where recent / current development is taking place and future development planned . We clearly need to make these new communities feel part of the Town and not detached satellites .
