Boundries need to reflect expansion of housing estates being built as there are a lot of old boundries which were formed 30 years + ago. Areas need to placed relevant to these expansion as old boundries can cut an estate in two by "lumping" it in with say old areas. Also expansion of populus means you may need more councilors, not less to represent the people. Any change in boundries should be decided by residents as who should represnr them. Options could be proposed by County council but it is the people who have the last say.
