A few unstructured observations – sorry! On names I would lose 'Royal' from the ward names – no=one in conversation refers to it as RTW and the district itself isn't called that. I also don't think I've ever heard anyone describe an area as Hilbert. North Farm would be a better name instead of North Woods. Boundaries The boundary should not follow the railway line through The Grove as it is in a tunnel here and has no bearing. I think the boundary up Mount Pleasant is a good idea in principle but ideally it would run slightly to the west as this is one of the main retail areas and would be good to have in one ward. Similar situation with the High Street. I don't think the proposals in the rural areas are miles off but difficult to justify splitting Goudhurst parish – obviously not easy to come up with a proposal using only 3 cllr wards.
