Comment text:

The current Hillside ward in Wokingham seems to be subject to a potentially large rise in voters by subsuming most of the University. Clearly this will depend upon how many students chose to cast their votes locally and live within the campus area affected. Good to see that the previous anomaly in the south west of the existing ward will be addressed. There appears to be relatively little overlap between these Wokingham proposals and those for the parliamentary constituences which in the Hillside area conflate voters living in both Reading and Wokingham council areas. \Surely this will lead to a degree of confusion for all.
