Related subject: Excessive number of Labour Councillors on Gateshead Council

Gateshead does not need 66 councillors to run a small town, at most there should be 40
The town is being allowed to turn into an open tip with people using the lanes behind their properties as a general dumping ground , roads are falling apart but nothing ever gets done by the ineffective council despite many requests for improvements
Labour councillors resist all attempts to reduce councillor numbers, but are quite happy to cut local services to the bone
