Comment text:

Good afternoon

I recently submitted a response online with suggested divisions in the Cotswold district of Gloucestershire, with specific comments for my local division of Tetbury.

The spreadsheet I attached to my online submission (as a PDF) contained some errata and I would be grateful if it could be substituted for the version attached. I have also attached a map and I would be grateful if this could be added to my submission, together with my explanatory comments below.

I have tried to ensure that each ward, with three exceptions, is wholly contained within a single division. My scheme ensures that each County Councillor represents a similar number of electors and that 29 of the 32 wards in the District are not split across county divisions.

Where wards have been split - for example in Chedworth & Churn Valley, Bourton Vale or Kemble - these reflect good communication links, existing divisional arrangements and local ties.

Baunton and Bagendon look to Cirencester, with residents accessing shopping facilities at Tesco and Waitrose in Cirencester.

Clapton and Cold Aston are geographically close to the larger settlements of Bourton-on-the-Water and Northleach, with good transport links along the A40 and the Fosse Way.

The parishes of Coates and Rodmarton are closer to Cirencester than Tetbury, but because of the shape of the Cotswold District it is difficult to devise a scheme that does not include these parishes in a division other than Tetbury. They are well-connected to Tetbury via the A433/Tetbury Road and there are regular bus services (for example, the 882) between Cirencester and Tetbury with stops in Coates, Rodmarton and Tarlton. Rodmarton parish lies to the south of the Golden Valley Line and the Thames and Seven canal and there are good road connections between Avening, Cherington, Rodmarton and Tarlton.

There is a strong case for placing the parish of Coates, with its proximity to Kemble and Cirencester, in either of my proposed "Cirencester North" or "Cerne and Thames" divisions but this would result in my redrawn Tetbury division would have a proposed variance of -10.4% from the average electorate per councillor in 2029. I would be interested to hear the Parish Council's views on the matter.

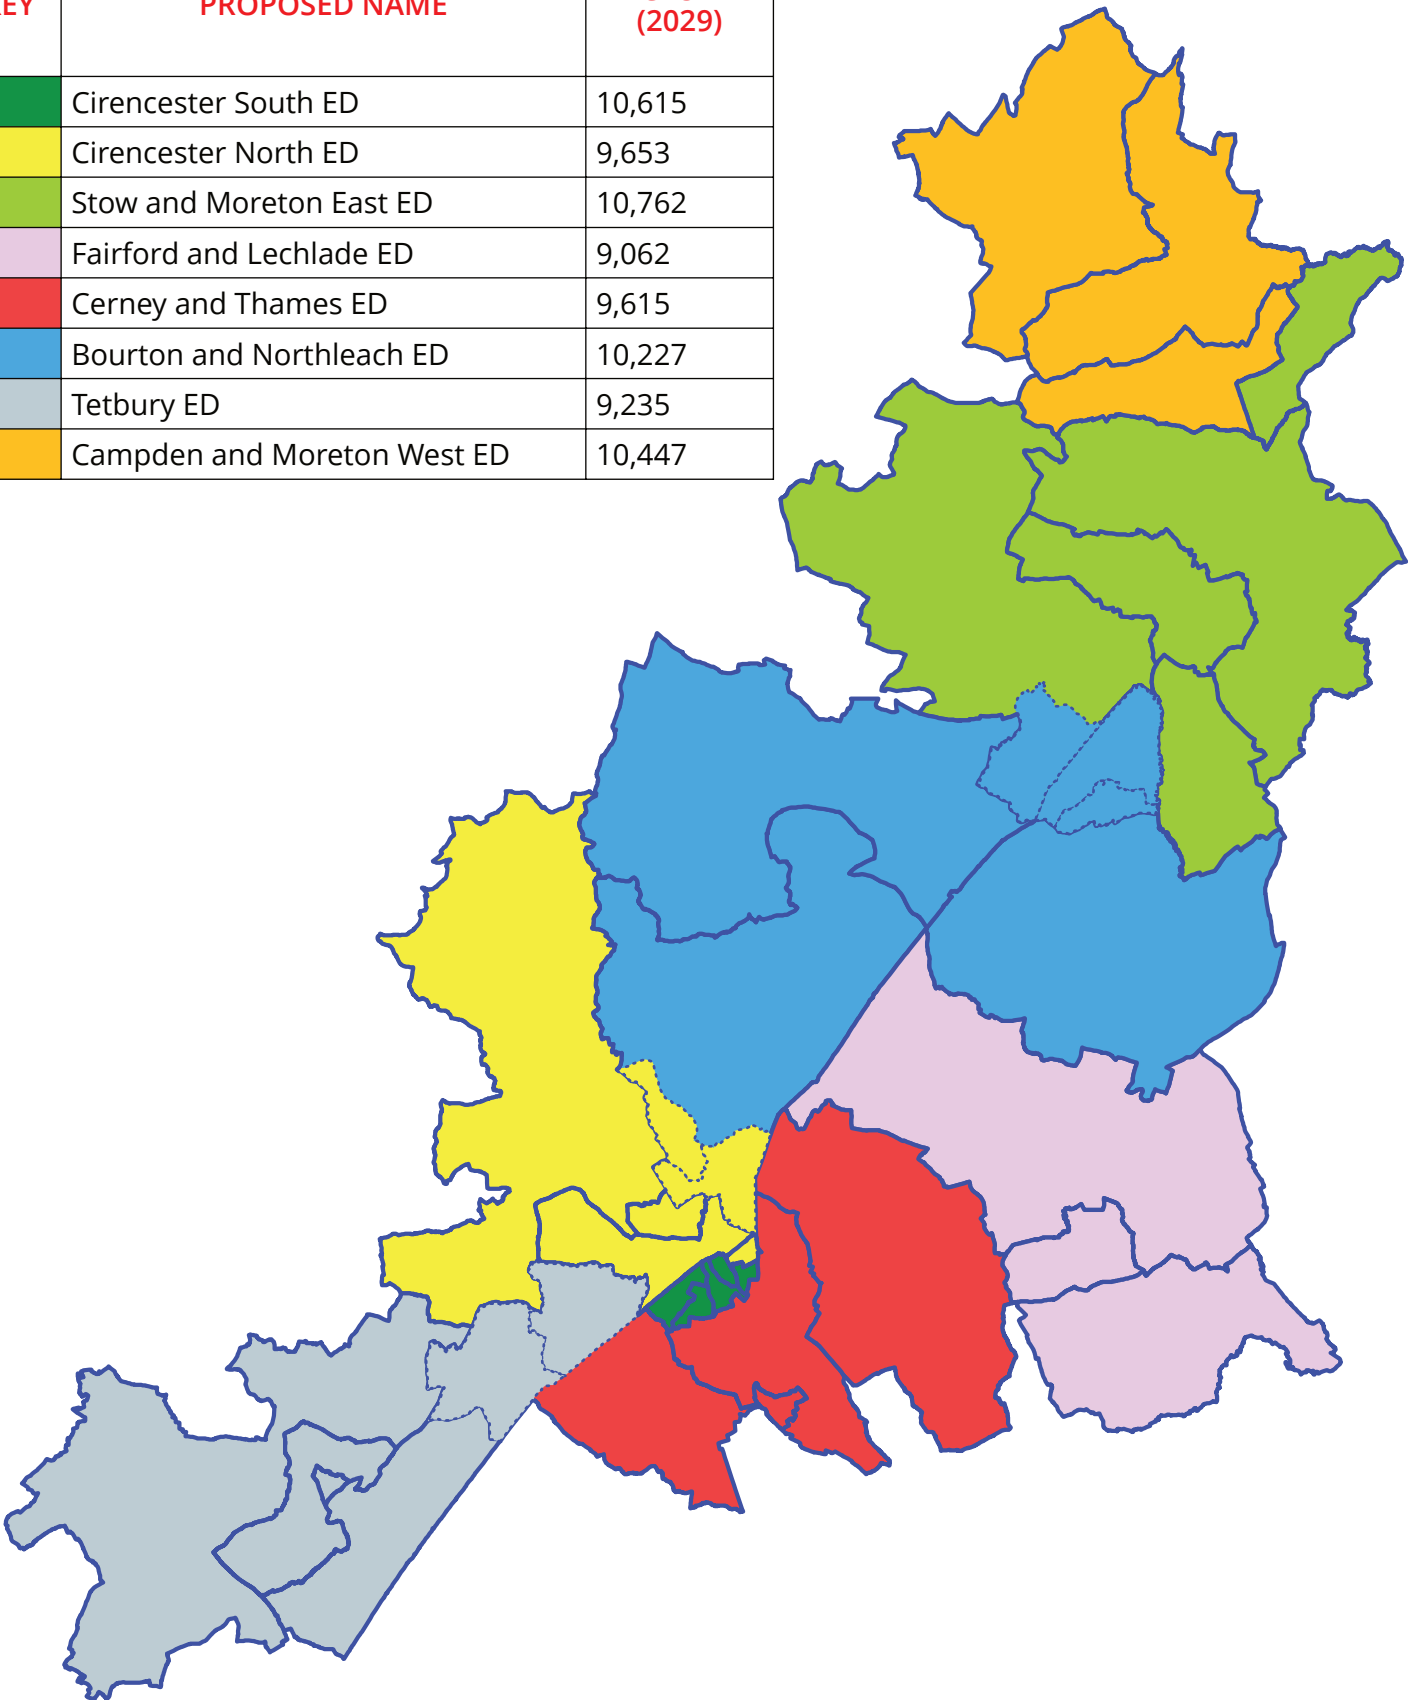

Best wishes

Independent, Tetbury with Upton Ward
