Related subject: Hardwicke, Gloucestershire

I disagree with Hardwicke being placed in the Cotswold division. My husband and I see no correlation between the Cotswolds and Hardwicke - geographically or culturally.

We live on the edge of Gloucester City and use facilities in and around that area. This includes doctors, dentists, shops, bus services etc.

I don't understand why Gloucester is being carved up into areas that have no commonalities. As Gloucester is a growing city, expanding into neighbouring districts, instead I suggest that the new boundaries provide a Gloucester North and Gloucester South.
