I am compelled to put forward many local peoples view of the boundary changes in wem . Wem currently has two councillors that work together amazing for the good of the town...
Which is not two towns. .. its one town and a small one at that with a big rural community around it . It's run perfectly well like this for many yrs as it is .
Wem is not part of whixall ...as the one boundary idea proposed suggests . Both areas have very different needs and aspirations ...and you cannot just lump the two together just to shuffle numbers on paper...its two very different places with very different needs . The locals infact find it staggering even the very idea is proposed .
I hope you actually listen please to the people on this matter before you make your final decision
