I live just outside Church Pulverbatch, currently in the Burnell ward and proposed to be in Bishops Castle. Pulverbatch has a very close knit village community, with its active village hall, church, and a local pub (hopefully to reopen soon).. We are currently fortunate to have our ward councillor living locally which has helped remove the previous feeling that we have always been a bit of an outpost in the ward . If the boundary has to change, I would prefer the village to be put in the Longden ward where there are existing links between the communities with the bus service, transport links,, schools, Churches and the local shop. . Pulverbatch and Longden with their similar village communities definitely hold far more in common than we currently do with the township of Bishops Castle.. I would also like to add that I view Bayston Hill as a suburb of Shrewsbury, the large housing estates, shopping centre ,transport links and other community facilities bear no resemblance to the smaller rural isolated villages of Burnell ward with their very different local needs. Residents of Bayston Hill can walk and use road crossings to reach the retail park, this seems a world away to the current character of Burnell ward.
