Related subject: Oxshott

I am totally against the proposal to split Oxshott up into two areas across the A244. This change of treatment for Oxshott is nonsensical and would divide its five thousand strong community.

Oxshott is surrounded by green belt with all core amenities within the village including a station, garage, church, schools, nurseries shops, community centres and cafes. There is zero logic or justification for carving it up to satisfy parameters of a voting system.

I completely reject LGBCE's recommendations for the treatment of Oxshott in its proposals. LGBCE should revise its recommendations and retain the existing boundaries whereby Oxshott continues to be part of the division of Hinchley Wood, Claygate & Oxshott.

These communities are linked by the regular train service and a logical local grouping.
