Related subject: The division and elimination of Oxshott

There can be no justification for dividing our community particularly by arbitrarily drawing a line down the high street. Likewise, there can be no justification for the elimination of the name of Oxshott. This quite frankly is an incomprehensible plan. If a line must be drawn and Oxshott be moved to Cobham, it should be closer to Chessington, so that Oxshott can be kept whole. The Avenue, an unpaved walking, biking and riding trail would be the natural boundry.
