Related subject: 2 anomalies in Chelmsley Wood and central Solihull

I would like to propose that 2 anomalies be corrected in the current review.

These are firstly that some years ago 6 properties in Whitebeam Road, Chelmsley Wood, were moved from Chelmsley Wood ward to Bickenhill ward (they are currently in Polling District BH 04) when it was found that whatever formed the boundary meant the properties needed to be moved.

I queried this at the time (I am a former Councillor for Chelmsley Wood ward) and was told they could be moved back to Chelmsley Wood ward but they never were, but it seems silly that all of the other properties in Whitebeam Road are in Chelmsley Wood ward and I'm sure the polling station would be much nearer for these residents if they were back in Chelmsley Wood ward.

Secondly there is 1 property, Number 2A Yew Tree Lane, that is in Bickenhill ward in Polling District BH 07 whereas all other properties in this road going down to number 2 are in Silhill ward (Polling District SH 04). I don't know the reason for this, but would have thought it sensible to place this property with all of the others in the same road.
