i strongly disagree to the proposed changes to my area to suit some political agenda.Hollycarside has always identified as being a part of ryhope it is only a stones throw from the former colliery which was the hub of the community. all seivices are close at hand at the moment every thing is a few minutes walking distance, if things change to grangetown/hendon ward this will incur costs for transport to get to doctors ,schools etc appointments would be missed due to travel.there is no need for change in my opinion
