(1) Support proposals to keep Chalford within Minchinhampton:

I support the fact that no changes are proposed for Chalford, and agree that Chalford should retain its current valley links across to Minchinhampton. However, I have been notified that one political party is recommending Chalford be joined with the much more disparate and rural Bisley/Painswick area. I would object to any such change. Chalford is a large parish of almost 6,500 and any proposal to move the parish into Bisley/Painswick simply to make numbers match, has no regard for community or other administrative boundaries.

(2) Object to proposals to move Thrupp from Minchinhampton to Stroud Central:

Brimscombe and Thrupp and the A419 London Road transport corridor (together with the Canal and Railway) are closely associated with Chalford as part of the Minchinhampton area. I strongly believe that the current status for Minchinhampton should be retained - maintaining a cohesive unit with a single county councillor, rather than splitting the area down the middle, without regard for community or other administrative boundaries.
