I think you're splitting up long-established communities with arbitrary divisions. The proposals are chopping up areas of the town and potentially messing up local groups, local govenment wards. Almost worse, the plan appears to exile residents in Prestbury & Swindon Village - for all the years I've lived in Cheltenham, they've been Cheltonians, not "periferal" beings in an outer zone. Look at rearranging residential areas round Swindon Land and tommy Taylors Lane. What is suggested won't enhance political representation.
