I am writing to oppose the moving of Stroud's Trinity Ward into a new Bisley/Painswick division. I live in the Trinity Ward, and our concerns and needs are united with that of central Stroud. They do not align as closely with the rural/village issues, and a councillor would struggle to meet everyone's needs. Why would we be separated from the main town when we're effectively within it?

The creation of an arbitrary boundary is a recipe for inefficiency and problems with assuring local concerns are understood and represented.
